

Journal of the Senate

EIGHTH DAY

SENATE CHAMBER, TOPEKA, KANSAS
Thursday, January 18, 2024, 2:30 p.m.

The Senate was called to order by Vice President Rick Wilborn.
The roll was called with 36 senators present.
Senators Doll, Holland, O'Shea and Steffen were excused.
The Vice President introduced Doug Burleigh, guest chaplain to deliver the invocation:

Dear Lord, in the words of the old hymn, "O God our help in ages past, our hope for years to come. Our shelter from the stormy blast and our eternal home." As we look across the world, we lift up those in harm's way in Ukraine and Gaza and we pray for peaceful solutions to these devastating conflicts. We pray, closer to home, for those in our state who are undergoing hardship from physical maladies, financial hardship, and grief from the recent loss of loved ones. We also pray for those suffering from the effects of the recent bitter cold weather.

We pray that our demeanor, in the midst of disagreement over a multitude of issues, would be honoring to You, Lord, who said, "Blessed are the peacemakers for they will be called the children of God."

As we seek to make decisions affecting the people of Kansas, help us to be good stewards of this great responsibility. And as far as our own personal integrity is lived out, may we remember the words of Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount, "let your yes be yes and your no be no. Anything other than that is from the evil one."

We ask for wisdom and guidance as we seek to engage in the people's work for the great state of Kansas. In the Name of Jesus we pray, Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Vice President Wilborn.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ryckman rose on a Point of Personal Privilege and offered the following remarks: It is my honor and privilege to bring to the Senate's attention today an institution that provides a true beacon of hope and progress in our State: The University of Kansas Cancer Center. The Center has long been a symbol of excellence, demonstrating an unwavering commitment to eradicating the burdens of cancer within Kansas and beyond. Through tireless dedication, groundbreaking research, and compassionate patient care, they have become a leading force in the fight against one of the most formidable challenges of our time. Their work was recently recognized by the National Cancer Institute, which rewarded the KU Center with "comprehensive" status in 2022. With this award, they are now one of only 56 NCI-designated comprehensive cancer centers in the country -- and the only one in our state and region. As the highest level of recognition awarded by NCI, this is the “gold standard” for cancer centers. This places KU in the top 1% of cancer centers across the country -- and means that Kansans will be cared for by the world’s leading experts with access to cutting-edge research and technologies. Simply put, this translates into saved lives, for patients treated at NCI-designated cancer centers have a 25% greater chance of survival. I am fortunate to be hosting in the VIP Gallery today not only the leadership from The University of Kansas Cancer Center but also three of their survivors and real-life success stories. The first (who is, regrettably, detained on the other side of the Capitol giving a presentation to the House Health and Human Services Committee, but definitely warrants introduction) is Dr. Roy Jensen, Vice Chancellor and Director of The University of Kansas Cancer Center, as well as Director of the Kansas Masonic Cancer Research Institute and CEO of the Masonic Cancer Alliance. Since joining the Center in 2004, Dr. Jensen has recruited a world-class leadership team and built a robust research program that made their “comprehensive” designation possible. Jeff Wright [Please stand] serves as the Senior Vice President of Cancer Services at The University of Kansas Health System. He is also the current Chairman of the Board of Ambassadors for the American Cancer Society. Cici Rojas [And I will ask you to please stand as well] is co-owner and President of Tico Productions and Tico Sports, a multicultural marketing firm in Mission, Kansas. She is also an actively engaged citizen, serving on the boards of multiple community organizations, including the YMCA. In 2017, Cici was diagnosed with Stage 4 Large B-cell Lymphoma. She underwent several chemotherapy treatments, including two (what are called) CAR-T treatments and a bone marrow transplant. Cici has been in remission since 2020! Darren McLaughlin serves as the Chief of Police for Merriam, Kansas, where he has been serving its citizens for 34 years. He and his wife, Mindy, are the proud parents of two children, Kyle and Grace. Darren was diagnosed in January of 2019 with Stage 4 Non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma. He received CAR-T therapy in June 2019 and has been cancer-free ever since! Fred Logan is Head of the Masonic Cancer Alliance Partners Advisory Board. In 2023, he received the first-ever Chancellor’s Award for Distinguished Service, in part for his work in support of The University of Kansas Cancer Center. He and our other four guests are here today with many others as part of “KU Cancer Center Day in the Statehouse.” Because my wife, Mary (also seated in the gallery), is herself a KU Cancer Center success story, I have an immense sense of personal gratitude for the blessing of the true miracles they perform, mindful, of course, that it is with a lot of help “from above.” Since ultimately all of us have friends or loved ones whose lives have been impacted by cancer in some way, please join me now in applause and appreciation for the amazing accomplishments and legacy of The University of Kansas Cancer Center.
